

DEPARTMENT OF ARKANSAS HERITAGE
ARKANSAS HISTORIC PRESERVATION PROGRAM

RULES GOVERNING THE ARKANSAS HISTORIC REHABILITATION INCOME TAX CREDIT PROGRAM

I. PURPOSE

Arkansas's historic sites and districts provide the state with significant benefits in the areas of community and economic development, tourism, civic pride, and an overall sense of place for Arkansas. Yet Arkansas continues to experience significant loss of historic structures. Since the overwhelming majority of historic properties are held by private owners, the state has developed this program to encourage these owners to restore and rehabilitate historic structures.

II. LEGISLATION

Arkansas Code Annotated § 26-51-2201 et seq. (Act 498 of 2009), the "Arkansas Historic Rehabilitation Income Tax Credit of 2009", allows a credit against the tax imposed by the Arkansas Income Tax Act of 1929, (§ 26-51-101 et seq.) and the premium tax levied under §§ 26-57-603 – 26-57-605 for any taxpayer engaged in the qualified rehabilitation of certified historic structures.

III. DEFINITIONS

As used herein, unless the context otherwise requires:

Act means the Arkansas Historic Rehabilitation Income Tax Credit of 2009 (A.C.A. § 26-51-2201 et seq.).

Tax credits means the authorized amount that may be applied against Arkansas corporate income tax or premium tax, whether earned by an individual, partnership, limited liability company, S Corporation or Corporation.

AHPP means the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program ("AHPP"), an agency of the Department of Arkansas Heritage ("DAH").

Application means the Arkansas Historic Rehabilitation Tax Credit Application, and constitutes a written plan for development and operation of a rehabilitation project. Applications are submitted in three parts:

Determination of Eligibility (Part 1) is used by the AHPP to determine whether a property is of historic significance and eligible to receive tax credits. Upon approval of a Part 1, the AHPP will issue a Certificate of Eligibility.

Proposed Rehabilitation Project (Part 2) is used by AHPP to determine whether a proposed rehabilitation project will comply with the Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation.

Completed Rehabilitation Project (Part 3) is used by AHPP to determine whether a completed rehabilitation project successfully complied with the Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation. Upon approval of a Part 3, the AHPP will issue a Certificate of Completion. Holders will submit Certificates of Completion to the appropriate taxing authority to claim tax credits.

Eligible property means property that is located in Arkansas that is:

- A. Income-producing property that:
 - 1. Qualifies as a certified historic structure under 26 U.S.C. § 47, as it existed on January 1, 2009; or
 - 2. Will qualify as a certified historic structure following certified rehabilitation; and
- B. Non-income-producing property that is:
 - 1. Listed in the National Register of Historic Places;
 - 2. Designated as contributing to a district listed in the National Register of Historic Places; or
 - 3. Eligible for designation as contributing to a district listed in the National Register of Historic Places following certified rehabilitation.

For purposes of the certification decisions set forth in this part, an eligible property encompasses the historic building and its site, landscape features, and environment. The National Park Service's decision to list a property in the National Register of Historic Places, including boundary determinations, does not limit the scope of review of the rehabilitation project for tax certification purposes. Such review will include the entire historic property as it existed prior to rehabilitation and any related new construction.

Income-producing property means nonresidential real property and residential rental property, as defined by the US Internal Revenue Code, Section 168. For the purpose of this Act, income-producing property includes properties to be rehabilitated for resale as condominium units.

Non-income-producing property means residential real property, as defined by the US Internal Revenue Code, Section 168.

Historic district means a geographically definable area, urban or rural, that possesses a significant concentration, linkage or continuity of sites, buildings, structures or objects united historically or aesthetically by plan or physical development. A district may also comprise individual elements separated geographically during the period of significance but linked by association or function.

National Register of Historic Places means the National Register of districts, sites, buildings, structures, and objects significant in American history, architecture, archeology, engineering, and culture pursuant to section 101(a)(1) of the National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended. (The procedures of the National Register appear in 36 CFR part 60 et seq.)

Rehabilitation means the process of returning a building or buildings to a state of utility, through repair or alteration, which makes possible an efficient use while preserving those portions and features of the building and its site and environment which are significant to its historic, architectural, and cultural values.

Certified rehabilitation means a substantial rehabilitation of an eligible property, consistent with the historic character of the eligible property and, where applicable, with the district in which such structure is located.

Qualified rehabilitation expenses means costs and expenses incurred to complete a certified rehabilitation in accordance with the Standards for Rehabilitation, as determined by the AHPP.

Standards for Rehabilitation means the United State Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Rehabilitation.

Owner means a person or an entity that owns eligible property and is the initial recipient of the certification of completion from the Department of Arkansas Heritage. An owner can be an individual, partnership, limited liability company, Corporation, or public agency holding a fee-simple interest in a property, or any other person or entity recognized for purposes of the applicable tax benefits.

Holder means the holder of a certification of completion that is:

- A. A person, firm, or corporation subject to the income tax imposed by the Income Tax Act of 1929, § 26-51-101 et seq.;
- B. An insurance company paying the premium tax levied under §§ 26-57-603 – 26-57-605 on its gross premium receipts.

State Historic Preservation Officer (SHPO) means the Director of the Department of Arkansas Heritage, or other official designated by the Governor or statute to act as liaison for purposes of administering historic preservation programs within Arkansas.

Tourism attraction means a property designed to attract at least 25% of its visitors from out-of-state. Tourism attraction does NOT include:

- A. Retail sales facilities (unless the goods are created on-site or if sales are incidental to the overall property);
- B. Facilities not open to the general public;
- C. Facilities not likely to attract overnight guests from outside the state who would stay in commercial lodging near the attraction;
- D. Facilities owned by the State of Arkansas or its political subdivisions;
- E. Gambling facilities (unless for approved pari-mutuel racing currently regulated under Arkansas Code);
- F. Lodging facilities, unless it meets the following tests:
 - 1. It must constitute a portion of a larger tourism attraction project and represent less than sixty percent (60%) of the total approved costs of the tourism attraction project; or
 - 2. If the approved cost for the lodging facility exceeds $5,000,000 and one of the following is met:
 - a. The lodging facility is attached to a convention center containing a minimum of seventy-five thousand (75,000) square feet, or
 - b. The lodging facility contains a minimum of twelve thousand (12,000) square feet of meeting or exhibit space.

IV. DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY.

- A. The State Historic Preservation Officer is delegated all powers necessary and convenient to carry out the responsibilities contained in these rules.
- B. The Department of Finance and Administration and Insurance Department are responsible for all procedures, legal determinations, and rules and regulations concerning the tax consequences relating to the Act. Any certification made by the State Historic Preservation Officer pursuant to the Act or these rules shall not be considered as binding upon the Department of Finance and Administration and Insurance Department with respect to tax consequences.

V. Introduction to certifications of eligibility and rehabilitation

- A. Who may apply:
 - 1. Ordinarily, only the fee simple owner of the property in question may apply for the certifications described below. If an application for an evaluation of significance or rehabilitation project is made by someone other than the fee simple owner, however, the application must be accompanied by a written statement from the fee simple owner indicating that he or she is aware of the application and has no objection to the request for certification.
 - 2. Upon receipt of an application the AHPP may determine whether or not a particular structure qualifies as an eligible property. The AHPP shall do so, however, only after notifying the fee simple owner of record of the request, informing such owner of the possible tax consequences of such a decision, and permitting the property owner a 30-day time period to submit written comments to the AHPP prior to decision. Such time period for comment may be waived by the fee simple owner.
 - 3. Owners of properties which appear to meet National Register criteria but are not yet listed in the National Register or which are located within potential historic districts may request preliminary determinations from the AHPP as to whether such structures may qualify as eligible properties when and if the properties or the potential historic districts in which they are located are listed in the National Register. Preliminary determinations may also be requested for properties outside the period or area of significance of registered historic districts. Procedures for obtaining these determinations shall be the same as those described above. Such determinations are preliminary only and are not binding on the AHPP. Preliminary determinations of significance will become final as of the date of the listing of the individual property or district in the National Register. For properties outside the period or area of significance of a registered historic district, preliminary determinations of significance will become final, except as provided below, when the district documentation on file with the NPS is formally amended. If during review of a request for certification of rehabilitation, it is determined that the property does not contribute to the significance of the district because of changes which occurred after the preliminary determination of significance was made, eligible property designation will be denied.
 - 4. Owners of structures not yet designated eligible properties may obtain determinations from the AHPP on whether or not rehabilitation proposals meet the Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation. Such determinations will be made only when the owner has requested a preliminary determination of the significance of the property as described above and such request for determination has been acted upon by the AHPP. Final certifications of rehabilitation will be issued only to owners of eligible properties.

B. How to apply:

1. Requests for certifications of eligibility and of rehabilitation shall be made on Historic Preservation Certification Applications. Part 1 of the application shall be used in requesting a certification of eligibility and for preliminary determinations of eligibility; while Part 2 of the application shall be used in requesting an evaluation of a proposed rehabilitation project.
2. Application forms are available by contacting AHPP and requesting a hard copy or an electronic version via e-mail. It is important that an applicant makes contact with AHPP staff prior taking any action on the proposed tax credit project.
3. Applications should be reviewed within 30 days of receipt of a complete, adequately documented application. Where adequate documentation is not provided, the owner will be notified of the additional information needed to undertake or complete review. The time periods in this part are based on the receipt of a complete application; they will be adhered to as closely as possible and are defined as calendar days. They are not, however, considered to be mandatory, and the failure to complete review within the designated periods does not waive or alter any certification requirement. It is the applicant's responsibility to notify the State Historic Preservation Officer if application reviews are not completed within the time periods specified above. The State Historic Preservation Officer in turn will consult with the AHPP to ensure that the review is completed in as timely manner as possible in the circumstances.
4. Approval of applications and amendments to applications is conveyed only in writing by duly authorized officials of the AHPP acting on behalf of the State Historic Preservation Officer. Decisions with respect to certifications are made on the basis of the descriptions contained in the application form and other available information. In the event of any discrepancy between the application form and other, supplementary material submitted with it (such as architectural plans, drawings, specifications, etc.), the applicant shall be requested to resolve the discrepancy in writing. In the event the discrepancy is not resolved, the description in the application form shall take precedence. Intentional falsification of factual representations in the application is subject to criminal and civil sanctions.
5. Although certifications of eligibility and rehabilitation are considered separately, owners must submit part 1 of the Historic Preservation Certification Application prior to, or with, part 2. Part 2 of the application will not be processed until an adequately documented Part 1 is on file and acted upon unless the property is already individually listed on the National Register. Applications will not be considered if the property owner has objected to the listing of the property in the National Register.

VI. Certifications of Eligibility (Part 1 Application)

- A. Requests for certifications of historic significance should be made by the owner to determine:
 1. That a property located within a National Register Historic District is of historic significance to such district; or
 2. That a property not yet listed on the National Register appears to meet National Register criteria; or
 3. That a property located within a potential historic district appears to contribute to the significance of such district.

- B. To determine whether or not a property is individually listed or is part of a district in the National Register, the owner may consult the AHPP for current information.

- C. If a property is located within the boundaries of a National Register Historic District and the owner wishes the AHPP to certify whether the property contributes or does not contribute to the historic significance of the district, or if the owner is requesting a preliminary determination of eligibility in accordance with, the owner must complete Part 1 of the Historic Preservation Certification Application according to instructions accompanying the application. Such documentation includes but is not limited to:
 1. Name and mailing address of owner;
 2. Name and address of property;
 3. Name of historic district;
 4. Current photographs of property; photographs of the building and its site and landscape features prior to alteration if rehabilitation has been completed; photograph(s) showing the property along with adjacent properties and structures on the street; and photographs of interior features and spaces adequate to document significance;
 5. Brief description of appearance including alterations, distinctive features and spaces, and date(s) of construction;
 6. Brief statement of significance summarizing how the property does or does not reflect the values that give the district its distinctive historical and visual character, and explaining any significance attached to the property itself (i.e., unusual building techniques, important event that took place there, etc.).
 7. Sketch map clearly delineating property's location within the district; and
 8. Signature of fee simple owner requesting or concurring in a request for evaluation.

- D. If a structure is individually listed in the National Register, it is generally considered an eligible property certified historic structure and no further certification is required, with the following exception:

1. If the property is individually listed in the National Register and the owner believes it has lost the characteristics which caused it to be nominated and therefore wishes it delisted, the owner should refer to the delisting procedures outlined in 36 CFR part 60.
 2. Some properties individually listed in the National Register include more than one structure. In such cases, the owner must submit a single Part 1 application, and include descriptions of all the buildings within the listing. The AHPP will determine which of the structures included within the listing are of historic significance to the property.
- E. Properties containing more than one structures where the structures are judged by the AHPP to have been functionally related historically to serve an overall purpose (such as a mill complex or a residence and carriage house) will be treated as a single eligible property, whether the property is individually listed in the National Register or is located within a historic district, when rehabilitated as part of an overall project. Structures that are functionally related historically are those which have functioned together to serve an overall purpose during the property's period of significance. In the case of a property within a registered historic district which contains more than one structure where the structures are judged to be functionally related historically, an evaluation will be made to determine whether the component buildings contribute to the historic significance of the property and whether the property contributes to the significance of the historic district.
- F. Applications for preliminary determinations for individual listing must show how the property individually meets the National Register Criteria for Evaluation. An application for a property located in a potential historic district must document how the district meets the criteria and how the property contributes to the significance of that district. An application for a preliminary determination for a property in a historic district which is outside the period of significance in the district documentation on file with the AHPP must document and justify the expanded significance of the district and how the property contributes to the significance of the district or document the individual significance of the property. Applications must contain substantially the same level of documentation as National Register nominations, as specified in 36 CFR part 60 and National Register Bulletin 16, "Guidelines for Completing National Register of Historic Places Forms" (available from the AHPP).

Owners should understand that intent to nominate to the National Register, or amend an existing National Register listing, does not constitute listing in the National Register, nor does it constitute a certification of eligibility as required by law for tax incentives. Owners should further understand that they are proceeding at their own risk. If the property or district is not listed in the National Register for procedural, substantive or other reasons; if the district documentation is not formally amended; or if the significance of the property has been lost as a result of alterations or damage, these preliminary determinations of significance will not become final. The State Historic Preservation Officer must nominate the property or the district before the preliminary certification of eligibility can become final.

- G. The AHPP discourages the moving of historic buildings from their original sites. However, if a building is to be moved as part of a rehabilitation projects for which certification is sought, the owner must follow different procedures depending on whether the building is individually listed in the National Register or is within a historic district. When a building is moved, every effort should be made to re-establish its historic orientation, immediate setting, and general environment. Moving a building may result in removal of the property from the National Register or, for buildings within a historic district, denial or revocation of a certification of eligibility. Consequently, a moved building may, in certain circumstances, be ineligible for tax credits.

1. Documentation must be submitted that demonstrates:

- a. The effect of the move on the building's integrity and appearance (any proposed demolition, proposed changes in foundations, etc.);
 - b. Photographs of the site and general environment of the proposed site;
 - c. Evidence that the proposed site does not possess historical significance that would be adversely affected by the moved building;
 - d. The effect of the move on the distinctive historical and visual character of the district, where applicable; and
 - e. The method to be used for moving the building.
2. For buildings individually listed in the National Register, the procedures contained in 36 CFR part 60 must be followed prior to the move, or the building will be removed from the National Register, will not be considered an eligible property, and will have to be re-nominated to the National Register. The owner may submit a Part 1 application in order to receive a preliminary determination from the AHPP of whether a move will cause the property to be removed from the National Register. However, preliminary approval of such a Part 1 application does not satisfy the requirements for property eligibility. The applicant must follow the remaining National Register procedures to ensure that the moved building will remain listed in the National Register and retain its status as an eligible property.
 3. If an owner moves (or proposes to move) a building into a National Register historic district or moves (or proposes to move) a building elsewhere within a historic district, a Part 1 application containing the required information must be submitted. The building to be moved will be evaluated to determine if it contributes to the historic significance of the district both before and after the move.
- I. Properties within historic districts will be evaluated to determine if they contribute to the historic significance of the district by application of the Secretary of the Interior's Standards for Evaluating Significance within Historic Districts (listed below).
 - J. Once the significance of a property located within a registered historic district or a potential historic district has been determined by the AHPP, written notification will be sent to the owner in the form of a certification of eligibility.
 - K. Owners shall report to the AHPP any substantial damage, alteration or changes to a property that occurs after issuance of a certification of eligibility and prior to a final certification of completion. The AHPP may withdraw a certification of eligibility, upon thirty days notice to the owner, if a property has been damaged, altered or changed effective as of the date of the occurrence. The property may also be removed from the National Register.

VII. Standards for Evaluating Significance within Historic Districts

- A. Properties located within historic districts are reviewed by the AHPP to determine if they contribute to the historic significance of the district by applying the following Standards for Evaluating Significance within Historic Districts.

1. A building contributing to the historic significance of a district is one which by location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling and association adds to the district's sense of time and place and historical development.
 2. A building not contributing to the historic significance of a district is one which does not add to the district's sense of time and place and historical development; or one where the location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling and association have been so altered or have so deteriorated that the overall integrity of the building has been irretrievably lost.
 3. Ordinarily buildings that have been built within the past 50 years shall not be considered to contribute to the significance of a district unless a strong justification concerning their historical or architectural merit is given or the historical attributes of the district are considered to be less than 50 years old.
- B. Some properties listed in the National Register, primarily districts, are resources whose concentration or continuity possesses greater historical significance than many of their individual component buildings and structures. These usually are documented as a group rather than individually. Accordingly, this type of National Register documentation is not conclusive for the purposes of determining eligibility and must be supplemented with information on the significance of the specific property. Certifications of significance and non-significance will be made on the basis of the application documentation, existing National Register documentation, and other available information as needed. The AHPP may submit an amended National Register nomination to the National Park Service if the application material warrants such an amendment. If a certification request is received for a property which is not yet listed on the National Register or which is outside a district's established period or area of significance, a preliminary determination of eligibility will be issued only if the request includes adequate documentation and if there is written assurance that the owner plans to nominate the property or district or that the district nomination in question is being revised to expand its significance. Certifications will become final when the property or district is listed or when the district documentation is officially amended, unless the significance of the property has been lost as a result of alteration or damage. For procedures on amending listings to the National Register and additional information on the use of National Register documentation, owners should the AHPP.
- C. Where rehabilitation credits are sought, certifications of eligibility will be made on the appearance and condition of the property before rehabilitation was begun.
- D. If a non-historic surface material obscures a facade, it may be necessary for the owner to remove a portion of the surface material prior to requesting certification so that a determination of significance or non-significance can be made. After the material has been removed, if the obscured facade has retained substantial historic integrity and the property otherwise contributes to the historic district, it will be determined to be an eligible property.

VIII. Certifications of Proposed Rehabilitation (Part 2 Application)

- A. Owners who want rehabilitation projects for eligible properties to be certified by the AHPP as being consistent with the historic character of the structure, and, where applicable, the district in which the structure is located, thus qualifying as a certified rehabilitation, shall comply with the procedures listed below.

1. To initiate review of a rehabilitation project for certification purposes, an owner must complete Part 2 of the Historic Preservation Certification Application according to instructions accompanying the application. The application may describe a proposed rehabilitation project, a project in progress, or a completed project.
2. These instructions explain in detail the documentation required for certification of a rehabilitation project. In all cases, documentation, including photographs (color processed or color digital accepted) adequate to document the appearance of the structure(s), both on the exterior and on the interior, and its site and environment prior to rehabilitation must accompany the application. The social security or taxpayer identification number(s) of all owners must be provided in the application. Other documentation, such as window surveys or cleaning specifications, may be required by the AHPP to evaluate certain rehabilitation projects. Plans for any attached, adjacent, or related new construction must also accompany the application. Where necessary documentation is not provided, review and evaluation may not be completed and a denial of certification will be issued on the basis of lack of information.
3. Owners are strongly encouraged to submit Part 2 of the application prior to undertaking any rehabilitation work. Owners who undertake rehabilitation projects without prior approval from the AHPP do so strictly at their own risk. Because the circumstances of each rehabilitation project are unique to the particular certified historic structure involved, certifications that may have been granted to other rehabilitations are not specifically applicable and may not be relied on by owners as applicable to other projects.
4. A project does not become a certified rehabilitation until it is completed and so designated by the AHPP. A determination that the completed rehabilitation of a structure not yet designated an eligible property meets the Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation does not constitute a certification of completion. When requesting certification of a completed rehabilitation project, the owner shall submit a Request for Certification of Completion (Part 3) and provide the project completion date and a signed statement that the completed rehabilitation project meets the Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation and is consistent with the work described in Part 2 of the Historic Preservation Certification Application. Also required in requesting certificate of completion are costs attributed to the rehabilitation, photographs adequate to document the completed rehabilitation, and the social security or taxpayer identification number(s) of all owners.

B. For certification purposes, a rehabilitation project encompasses all work on the interior and exterior of the eligible property and its site and environment, as determined by the AHPP, as well as related demolition, new construction or rehabilitation work which may affect the historic qualities, integrity or site, landscape features, and environment of the eligible property. More specific considerations in this regard are as follows:

1. All elements of the rehabilitation project must meet the Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation; portions of the rehabilitation project not in conformance with the Standards may not be exempted. In general, an owner undertaking a rehabilitation project will not be held responsible for prior rehabilitation work not part of the current project or rehabilitation work that was undertaken by previous owners or third parties.

2. However, if the AHPP considers or has reason to consider that a project submitted for certification does not include the entire rehabilitation project subject to review hereunder, the AHPP may choose to deny a certificate of completion or to withhold a decision on such a certification until such time as the AHPP has determined the proper scope of the rehabilitation project to be reviewed. Factors to be taken into account by the AHPP in this regard include, but are not limited to, the facts and circumstance of each application and:
 - a. whether previous demolition, construction or rehabilitation work irrespective of ownership or control at the time was in fact undertaken as part of the rehabilitation project for which certification is sought, and
 - b. whether property conveyances, reconfigurations, ostensible ownership transfers or other transactions were transactions which purportedly limit the scope of a rehabilitation project for the purpose of review by the AHPP without substantially altering beneficial ownership or control of the property. The fact that a structure may still qualify as an eligible project after having undergone inappropriate rehabilitation, construction or demolition work does not preclude the AHPP from determining that such inappropriate work is part of the rehabilitation project to be reviewed.
3. Conformance to the Standards will be determined on the basis of the application documentation and other available information by evaluating the property as it existed prior to the commencement of the rehabilitation project, regardless of when the structure becomes or became an eligible property.
4. For rehabilitation projects involving more than one eligible property where the structures are judged by the AHPP to have been functionally related historically to serve an overall purpose (such as a mill complex or a residence and carriage house) a certificate of completion will be issued on the merits of the overall project rather than for each structure or individual component. For rehabilitation projects where there is no historic functional relationship among the structures, the decision will be made for each separate eligible property regardless of how they are grouped for ownership or development purposes.
5. Demolition of a building as part of a rehabilitation project involving multiple buildings may result in denial of a certificate of completion. In projects where there is no historic functional relationship among the structures being rehabilitated, related new construction which physically expands one eligible property undergoing rehabilitation and, therefore, directly causes the demolition of an adjacent structure, will generally result in denial of a certificate of completion unless a determination has been made that the building to be demolished is not an eligible property. In rehabilitation projects where the structures have been determined to be functionally related historically, demolition of a component may be approved, in limited circumstances, when:
 - a. The component is outside the period of significance of the property, or
 - b. The component is so deteriorated or altered that its integrity has been irretrievably lost; or

- c. The component is a secondary one that generally lacks historic, engineering, or architectural significance or does not occupy a major portion of the site and persuasive evidence is present to show that retention of the component is not technically or economically feasible.
- 6. In situations involving rehabilitation of an eligible property in a historic district, the AHPP will review the rehabilitation project first as it affects the eligible property and second as it affects the district and make a decision accordingly.
- 7. In the event that an owner of a portion of an eligible property requests a certificate of completion related only to that portion, but there is or was a larger related rehabilitation project(s) occurring with respect to the eligible property, AHPP's decision on the requested certificate of completion will be based on review of the overall rehabilitation project(s) for the eligible property.
- C. Upon receipt of the complete application describing the rehabilitation project, the AHPP shall determine if the project is consistent with the Standards for Rehabilitation. If the project does not meet the Standards for Rehabilitation, the owner shall be advised of that fact in writing and, where possible, will be advised of necessary revisions to meet such Standards.
- D. Once a proposed or ongoing project has been approved, substantive changes in the work as described in the application must be brought promptly to the attention of the AHPP by written statement to ensure continued conformance to the Standards. The AHPP will notify the owner in writing whether the revised project continues to meet the Standards. Oral approvals of revisions are not authorized or valid.
- E. Projects in progress may be inspected by an authorized representative of the State Historic Preservation Officer to determine if the work meets the Standards for Rehabilitation. The AHPP may deny a certificate of completion if it is determined that the rehabilitation project was not undertaken as represented by the owner in the application.
- F. If a proposed, ongoing, or completed rehabilitation project does not meet the Standards for Rehabilitation, an explanatory letter will be sent to the owner by the AHPP. A rehabilitated property not in conformance with the Standards for Rehabilitation and which is determined to have lost those qualities which caused it to be nominated to the National Register will be removed from the National Register in accordance with US Department of the Interior regulations.
- G. All rehabilitation projects receiving tax credits must address one or more of the following program priorities. Applications should indicate which of these priorities their project addresses when submitting the Part 2 application.
 - 1. Creation of a new business
 - 2. Expansion of an existing business
 - 3. Establishment of a tourism attraction
 - 4. Revitalization of a commercial historic district
 - 5. Rehabilitation of a significant property in a historic neighborhood

IX. Standards for Rehabilitation

- A. The following Standards for Rehabilitation are the criteria used to determine if a rehabilitation project qualifies as a certified rehabilitation. The intent of the Standards is to assist the long-term preservation of a property's significance through the preservation of historic materials and features. The Standards pertain to historic buildings of all materials, construction types, sizes, and occupancy and encompass the exterior and the interior of historic buildings. The Standards also encompass related landscape features and the building's site and environment, as well as attached, adjacent, or related new construction. To be certified, a rehabilitation project must be determined by the AHPP to be consistent with the historic character of the structure(s) and, where applicable, the district in which it is located.

- B. The following Standards are to be applied to specific rehabilitation projects in a reasonable manner, taking into consideration economic and technical feasibility.
 - 1. A property shall be used for its historic purpose or be placed in a new use that requires minimal change to the defining characteristics of the building and its site and environment.
 - 2. The historic character of a property shall be retained and preserved. The removal of historic materials or alteration of features and spaces that characterize a property shall be avoided.
 - 3. Each property shall be recognized as a physical record of its time, place, and use. Changes that create a false sense of historical development, such as adding conjectural features or architectural elements from other buildings, shall not be undertaken.
 - 4. Most properties change over time; those changes that have acquired historic significance in their own right shall be retained and preserved.
 - 5. Distinctive features, finishes, and construction techniques or examples of craftsmanship that characterize a historic property shall be preserved.
 - 6. Deteriorated historic features shall be repaired rather than replaced. Where the severity of deterioration requires replacement of a distinctive feature, the new feature shall match the old in design, color, texture, and other visual qualities and, where possible, materials. Replacement of missing features shall be substantiated by documentary, physical, or pictorial evidence.
 - 7. Chemical or physical treatments, such as sandblasting, that cause damage to historic materials shall not be used. The surface cleaning of structures, if appropriate, shall be undertaken using the gentlest means possible.
 - 8. Significant archeological resources affected by a project shall be protected and preserved. If such resources must be disturbed, mitigation measures shall be undertaken.
 - 9. New additions, exterior alterations, or related new construction shall not destroy historic materials that characterize the property. The new work shall be differentiated from the old and shall be compatible with the massing, size, scale, and architectural features to protect the historic integrity of the property and its environment.

10. New additions and adjacent or related new construction shall be undertaken in such a manner that if removed in the future, the essential form and integrity of the historic property and its environment would be unimpaired.

- C. The quality of materials and craftsmanship used in a rehabilitation project must be commensurate with the quality of materials and craftsmanship of the historic building in question. Certain treatments, if improperly applied, or certain materials by their physical properties, may cause or accelerate physical deterioration of historic buildings. Inappropriate physical treatments include, but are not limited to: improper repointing techniques; improper exterior masonry cleaning methods; or improper introduction of insulation where damage to historic fabric would result. In almost all situations, use of these materials and treatments will result in denial of a certificate of completion. Similarly, exterior additions, that duplicate the form, material, and detailing of the structure to the extent that they compromise the historic character of the structure, will result in denial. For further information on appropriate and inappropriate rehabilitation treatments, owners are to consult the Guidelines for Rehabilitating Historic Buildings published by the National Park Service. Technical information to help property owners formulate plans for the rehabilitation, preservation, and continued use of historic properties consistent with the intent of the Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation is available from the AHPP. Owners are responsible for procuring this material as part of planning for a rehabilitation project.
- D. In certain limited cases, it may be necessary to dismantle and rebuild portions of an eligible property to stabilize and repair weakened structural members and systems. In such cases, the AHPP will consider such extreme intervention if:
 1. The necessity for dismantling is justified in supporting documentation;
 2. Significant architectural features and overall design are retained; and
 3. Adequate historic materials are retained to maintain the architectural and historic integrity of the overall structure. Owners are cautioned that the Standards for Rehabilitation require retention of distinguishing historic materials of external and internal walls as well as structural systems. In limited instances, rehabilitations involving removal of existing external walls, (i.e., external walls that detract from the historic character of the structure such as in the case of a non-significant later addition or walls that have lost their structural integrity due to deterioration) may be certified as meeting the Standards for Rehabilitation.
- E. Prior approval of a project by other state, federal, or local agencies or organizations does not ensure certification by the AHPP for tax purposes. The Secretary's Standards for Rehabilitation take precedence over other regulations and codes in determining whether the rehabilitation project is consistent with the historic character of the property and, where applicable, the district in which it is located.
- F. The qualities of a structure and its environment which qualify it as an eligible property are determined taking into account all available information, including information derived from the physical and architectural attributes of the building; such determinations are not limited to information contained in National Register or related documentation.

 - 2. An owner's record supporting a claim for qualified rehabilitation expenses may be reviewed by the AHPP, the appropriate tax collection authority, or a holder.
