FAU S ABOUT THE FOUD STAMP PROGRAM

Food stamps are used like money to buy food. Your eligibility for food stamps is based on the number of people in your household and your household's total income and resources. Your income and resources can not be more than the Program limits. Usually, the more net income you have, the fewer food stamps you will receive. The more people in your household (household size), the more food stamps you will receive. Most households will have to spend some of their own money along with their food stamps to buy enough food for a month. (A household is usually made up of all people who live together, buy food together and eat together.)

If your household is approved, you will get: (1) an identification (ID) card; and (2) a notice. The notice will tell you the number of months you are approved to get food stamps and how many food stamps you will get each month. Your food stamps will be mailed to you. You may get a mail schedule from your caseworker.

If your household is denied, you will get a notice telling you why.

READ THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR RIGHTS

- You have the right to apply for food stamps or any other public assistance program at any time.
- You have the right to know the eligibility rules for food stamps, and to be told how your application is handled.
- You have the right to an explanation if your application is not processed within 30 days.
- If you are unhappy with our action, or if you feel we failed to act on your food stamp application, you or your representative may appeal orally or in writing. Sometimes, your food stamps will stay the same until the hearing if you appeal before the date we say we will take action. Ask your food stamp worker to explain. If you appeal in writing write to:

READ THE FOLLOWING INFORMATION ABOUT YOUR RESPONSIBILITIES

- If you knowingly provide false information or withhold the report of a change, you will be subject to prosecution for fraud. Also, you will be required to pay back the value of any food stamps you should not have received.
- Your case may be selected for a quality control review. If so, there will be review of your statements on this form. There will also be a review of how the county office handled your food stamp case. We may ask other people or agencies for information. Normally, we will ask your permission to get this information.
- If you do not get you food stamps in the mail, you must report this to the DHS County Office. Replacement food stamps will be sent only if you tell us you did not get your food stamps before the last day of the month in which they were mailed. (For food stamps mailed after the 15th of the month, you have until the end of the following month to let us know you did not get them.)

EXPEDITED SERVICE

If your household meets one of the conditions listed below, you may be able to get your food stamps within five days.

- Your gross income is less than $150, and your liquid resources total $100 or less.
- Your monthly shelter bills (rent, utilities, etc.) are more than your total gross income and liquid resources.
- Your household has no place of its own to live.
- You are a migrant or a seasonal farmworker, and your household has little or no income or resources.

Income means money from work, money from checks or money people give you. We will count every household member's income. Liquid resources are money in a financial institution like a bank, cash you have on hand, or stocks and bonds. We will count every household member's resources.

If you would like to apply for expedited service, go to page 3 of this application.
