Effective October 1, 1995, maximum coupon amounts and income level amounts for all households increase as indicated on the attached Basis of Issuance Table.

The tables include coupon amounts from the maximum for the household size down to $1, which is rounded to $2 for categorically eligible households. The minimum coupon allotments for non-categorically eligible households are indicated by boxes ☐ on the tables. Coupon amounts below the boxes apply to Categorically Eligible households.

Budget deductions are as follows:

1. Standard deduction changes from $134 to $138.
2. Standard utility allowance changes from $165 to $166.
3. Maximum excess shelter changes from $231 to $247. Aged/disabled households have no limit on maximum excess shelter deduction.

Aggregate allotments that are issued in September for October should be based on the 10-1-95 chart.

FOOD STAMP CERTIFICATION MANUAL 6210 - 6300 DATE: 10-1-95	SECTION: DEDUCTIONS SUBJECT: STANDARD DEDUCTION

6210 Farm Loss Deduction

The losses from a farming enterprise operated by a household member may be deducted from the household's other countable income. FSC 5640.1 contains instructions for applying the Farm Loss deduction.

6300 The Standard Deduction

A uniform standard deduction is mandated by Federal law and is applied to all households regardless of size, type of income or household composition. See Appendix D for the current standard deduction.

The standard deduction is applied in the following manner on the Food Stamp Authorization document, EMS-233, when there is both earned and unearned income in the household.

1. Calculate the net earned income (field 37) by applying the earned income/deduction as described in FSC 6200 above.
2. Total all unearned income. Enter this figure in field 49.
3. Calculate gross income by adding together net earned income and total unearned income. Enter this figure in field 51.
4. Subtract the standard deduction in field 52 from the gross income (field 51). The figure obtained will be adjusted gross income. Enter this figure in field 53.

Example - The household has one member with gross earnings of $795. Two members each receive an AFDC grant of $142. The calculations which follow are based on deduction amounts in effect 10-1-95.

1. Calculate net earned income (field 37). Gross earned income $795 x 20% = $159 earned income deduction. $795 gross earned income - $159 earned = $636 net earned income.
2. Calculate total unearned income (field 49). $142 AFDC + $142 AFDC = $284
3. Calculate total gross income (field 51). $636 net earned income + $284 total unearned income = $920 gross income.
- * 4. Subtract the standard deduction (field 52). $920 total gross income - $138 standard deduction = $782 adjusted gross income.

When there is only earned income in the food stamp budget, the gross income (field 51) will consist of the amount calculated as the net earned income in field 37.

FOOD STAMP CERTIFICATION MANUAL 6300 - 6400 DATE: 10-1-95	SECTION: DEDUCTIONS SUBJECT: DEPENDENT CARE DEDUCTION

- * Example: The household reports only earned income of $795. The caseworker calculates the earned income deduction as $159 and $636 as the net earned income in field 37. $636 will be entered as the total income in field 51 and the $138 standard deduction will be subtracted from this figure ($$636 - $138 = $498$) to obtain the adjusted gross income in field 53.

When there is only unearned income in the food stamp budget, the gross income (field 51) will consist of the amount calculated as the total unearned income in field 49.

- * Example: The household reports only unearned income of two AFDC checks. They total $284. $284 will be entered as the gross income in field 51 and the $138 standard deduction will be subtracted from this figure ($$284 - $138 = $146$) to obtain the adjusted gross income in field 53.

6400 The Dependent Care Deduction

Dependent care costs are payments for the actual care of a child or other dependent person (e.g. an incapacitated adult). Payments are deductible only when necessary for a household member to:

1. Accept or continue employment; or
2. Pursue education preparatory for employment; or
3. Comply with the Project SUCCESS Employment and Training (E & T) Program requirements; or
4. For those individuals not subject to the E & T requirements, an equivalent effort to seek employment. (An individual's statement that they are seeking employment will be adequate to establish an equivalent effort.)

The dependent care deduction will include costs such as baby sitter or day care fees or the cost of an attendant for an incapacitated adult.

Dependent care costs may not exceed a maximum allowable amount determined by Federal law. See Appendix D to this manual for the current maximum allowable amount.

Example - (Based upon the maximum allowable amount of $175 per dependent effective 9/1/94.) A household reports that a member is employed. This member has two children aged 2 and older. The member pays $45 per week per child to a day care center.

Calculated prospectively, dependent care costs would be $$45 \times 4.334 = \195 per child reduced to the maximum allowable amount of $175 per dependent. ($$175 \times 2 = \350 total dependent care costs.)

When a household member receives two telephone bills (e.g., one from Southwestern Bell and one from AT&T), the worker will examine both bills to determine the total allowable basic fees and taxes on such fees. Basic fees will include charges for line access (including mileage charges) and for leasing of equipment for one telephone. Long distance charges are not allowable. Fees to companies specializing in reduced rate long distance call service are not allowable. When a household has "Lifeline Service", charges for local calls in excess of the number permitted will not be allowable. The reduced basic service fees such households incur will be allowable.

5. Shelter costs for a home temporarily unoccupied by its owners. Shelter costs will be allowed for those homes that are temporarily unoccupied by the owners because of employment or training away from home, illness or abandonment caused by a natural disaster or casualty loss.

In order to include the costs of a home temporarily unoccupied by the owners, all four of the following criteria must be met:

- The household must be incurring these shelter costs;
- The household must intend to return to the home;
- The home must not be leased or rented during the absence of the owners; and
- If there are occupants currently in the home, these occupants must not be claiming the shelter costs for food stamp purposes.

Verification. If a household claims expenses for a temporarily unoccupied home, the worker will verify the household's actual utility expenses for the unoccupied home in every case and will not use the standard utility allowance.

6. Charges for Repair of Home. Charges for the repair of the home which was damaged or destroyed due to a natural disaster such as, but not limited to, a fire or a flood are deductible when such charges are billed or otherwise become due. Shelter costs will not include charges for repair of the home that have been or will be reimbursed by private or public relief agencies, insurance companies, or from any other source.

- * 7. For homeless households, a shelter estimate of $143. A homeless household, as defined in FSC 1850, is composed entirely of homeless individuals. All homeless households, including those residing temporarily with another household but qualifying for separate household status as per FSC 1630, will be eligible to use a shelter estimate of $143 as the household's total shelter cost if the household reasonably expects to incur shelter costs during the month. Households residing temporarily with another household must pay the other household for shelter in order to qualify for the shelter estimate.

If the household verifies its actual costs are higher than $143, the household may use its actual costs rather than the standard.

FOOD STAMP CERTIFICATION MANUAL	SECTION: DEDUCTIONS
6610 - 6621	SUBJECT: EXCESS SHELTER DEDUCTION -
DATE: 9-1-94	UTILITY STANDARD

If a homeless household has difficulty in obtaining traditional types of verification - e.g., rent receipts or receipts for utility bills, the caseworker may use collateral contact to verify actual shelter costs. Or, in the case that a homeless household has declared shelter costs which are comparable to costs incurred by other homeless households, no verification need be required. (Example, a household resides in a shelter with a basic charge known to the county office.)

6620 Explanation of the Utility Standard

The utility standard is a predetermined amount which eligible households may elect to use in their food stamp budget to calculate their total shelter costs. When the utility standard is used in the budget, no actual utility costs are considered regardless of whether the costs are more or less than the standard amount.

There are restrictions on which households may elect to use the utility standard. There are restrictions on how often eligible households may switch from using the utility standard to using actual costs even if the actual costs exceed the standard amount.

6621 Determining Which Households May Choose to Use the Utility Standard

Generally, a household is entitled to elect to use the standard if it incurs a cost for its primary source of heating or an air conditioning cost separate from its rent or mortgage payment. (See "Specific Costs" below for further explanation). The regularity of the heating and/or air conditioning costs is not a factor in determining whether the household may elect to use the standard as long as the household has costs during the season(s) that correspond to the billed periods. In both examples below the household is entitled to elect the utility standard.

Example 1 - A household does not have an air conditioner but incurs a cost for butane gas used for space heaters throughout the house. The space heaters are the household's primary source of heat.

Example 2 - A household rents an apartment where all utilities are furnished except electricity and that household uses an electric powered air conditioner.

Households billed only for phone, water, sewer, garbage, or any combination of these, are not entitled to elect to use the utility standard. Households not entitled to elect to use the utility standard may claim any actual utility costs incurred separately from rent or mortgage payments.

See FSC 6625 - 6626.2 when determining entitlement to the standard for a household which receives a utility assistance check.

The Food Stamp Online System selects allotments which will be sent certified mail. The County Office is unable to force cases into certified mail delivery. The criteria for certified mail issuance are based on statistics which identify high risk areas for mail loss as well as high dollar allotments. This appendix contains a listing of each county and the criteria in each used to select certified mail cases. (Refer to FSC 14230 for Issuance Via Certified Mail.)
